Craftsmanship and design research for the Finisterre and Pleiadi collections

18/08/2022 - Form, decoration and function: the Warli indoor and outdoor rugs tells a story of craftsmanship and design research.

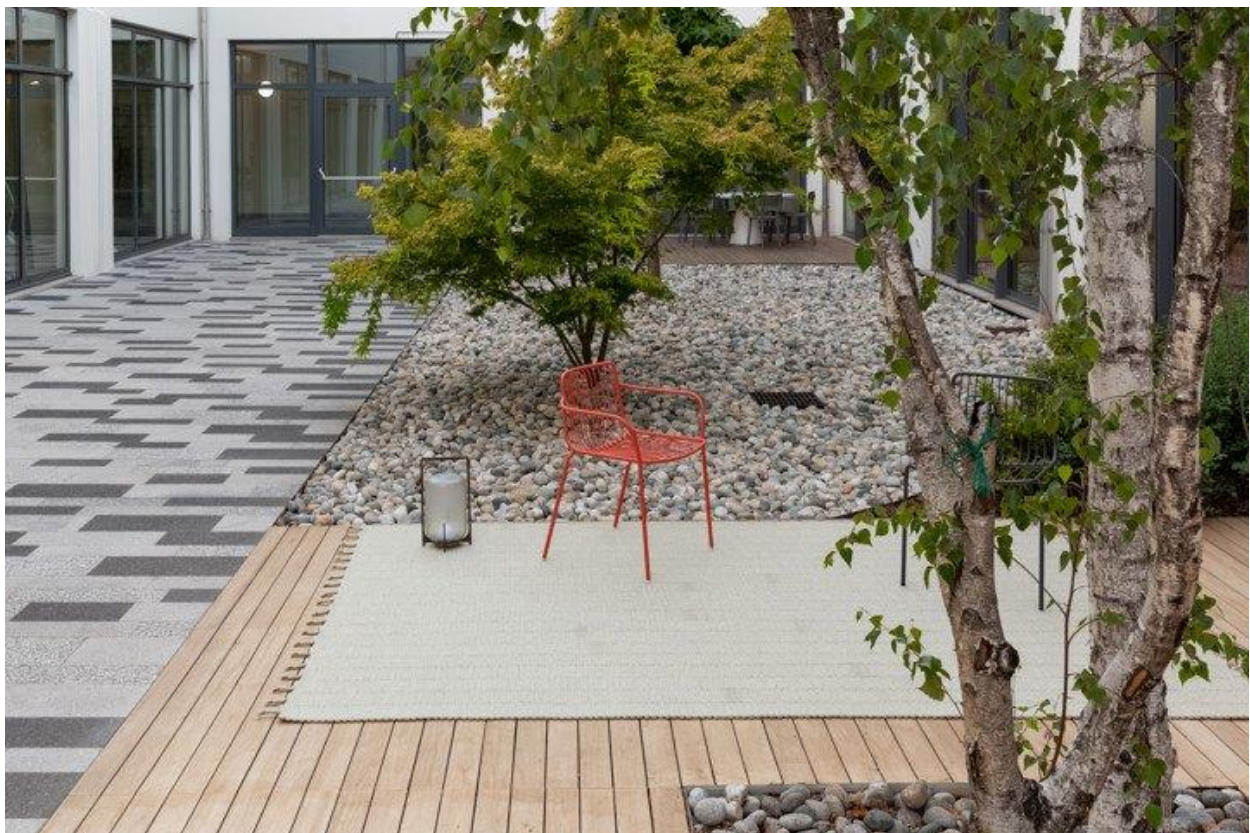

Under the artistic direction of Paolo Zani, Warli presents a collection of rugs where decoration and colors are skillfully measured to form perfect geometric patterns.

This is how Finisterre was born, an elaborated tufted rug, with a deliberately characterizing unusual shape. Really decorative, rich in colors and different textures obtained thanks to the use of different yarns. A rug in which all the productive ability is expressed, which becomes a journey to the end of the world, an archipelago of signs and fascinating shapes.

A rug whose name itself summarizes the research carried out: the latin expression 'Finis terrae' tells of the border of the Earth, the westernmost point beyond which the world ended. Hence the idea of a design composed by a series of concentric elements, an expression of the limit of the physical world.

Pleaidi is, instead, a solution for outdoor spaces, created by the continuous repetition of a serpentine element, sewn and assembled by hand. A simple rug with an unexpected detail in the endings that reminisce the traditional fringes.

Pleidi is an idea born out of the blue, a sketch of another time made on a piece of paper. No computer processing, just the continuity of an element that repeats itself inside a geometric shape. Only the work and care of the artisans, capable of translating the idea into a furnishing object, with skill and dedication.

Also for the outdoors, the Twilight lantern is a lively complement from the accessories selection, a vision of Paolo Zani's world, designed by himself. A luminous object that can be carried wherever you want. A portable rechargeable LED lantern (IP67) in stainless steel and hand-engraved blown opal glass. A precious but deliberately essential light, perfect for outdoor use and highly resistant to atmospheric agents.

In addition to the stainless steel finish, it is enriched by new satin colors with a corrugated effect: dark bronze, light grey, white, and bordeaux. The IP67 and 6-8 hours autonomy at full power make Twilight the perfect companion for a starry night.
